In Other Accidents

A 36-year-old Wellsville area woman remained in City Hospital today with injuries when her auto rammed the rear of an Ohio Highway Department tractor on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. Friday afternoon.

A city youth, two East Palestine boys, a Lisbon teen-ager and two Warren residents were hurt in other accidents, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mrs. Margaret Ann Fry of Wellsville R.D. 1 was in "fair" condition at the hospital with concussion and bruises of the forehead and right eye suffered in the Wellsville road mishap at 3:40 p.m., about a half-mile south of the city limits.

Officers said she was headed north in a 1966 sedan and struck the rear of the highway department vehicle operated by Alfred Whisenand, 68, of 207 Beechwood Ave., causing both vehicles to overturn.

Whisenand was treated at the

Motorists Reminded Of Auto Lot 'Bargain'

A 5-cent hourly fee prevails for metered parking on the new Ceramic Annex lot fronting on E. 3rd St., but many motorists apparently are unaware of the "bargain," judging from the slim patronage in recent days, Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Most drivers apparently believe the parking charge on the lower section of the lot is 10 cents — the same as in the original section — Vodrey said. But there are 70 spaces in the so-called annex where the fee is only 5 cents.

Motorists naturally gravitate to the area closest to E. 4th St. to save a few steps in walking to the business district, but if they would drive a few more feet they would save 5 cents hourly on the parking charge, Vodrey said. The annex section's lower fee was designed especially to appeal to long-term parkers.

Horse Show Among Events
Sunday Program
To Wind Up Fair

LISBON — Columbiana County's 121st annual fair will close Sunday night with a 14-class horse show beginning at 7.

Entries at $1 per class may be made at the secretary's office until 5 p.m. Sunday. Trophies, ribbons and prize money will be given.

Fair directors hope for another day of the fine weather which has continued since the opener on Wednesday. Attendance promises to set a record. Directors estimated Friday's crowd at 12,500, to bring the three-day total to 37,500.

THERE ARE two grandstand attractions tonight — the grand finale parade at 7:30 and the Rotoff all-girl auto thrill show at 8:30. The girl drivers drew the biggest crowd at last year's fair.

A church service will be held in the grandstand at 10:45 a.m. Sunday. The Senior Citizens Choir will sing.

High school bands from Wellsville, Beaver Local, Leontia and West Branch will present a concert at 1:30 p.m.

The Lisbon High School band furnished music today.

The third and final afternoon of horse racing was held today. Speed Secretary Dick Stockman said a record purse of $2,545 was on the line in the 2-year-old pace.

Winners of races Friday follow:

Two-year-old trot stake (purse $2,345) — E. P. O., owned and driven by E. K. Buckley; Valiant Hope, C. T. Reed; Deminonde, Brave Land Stables, F. Bach. Time 2:15 2-5.

Three-year-old trot stake (purse $2,190) — Uncle Hank, R. & H. Critchfield, B. Nickells; Fighter Pick, R. Sidley, R. Richardson Sr.; Chuckie Spirit, Joe Finch. Time 2:16 2-5.

Three-year-old pace stake (purse $2,150) — Milwaukee Freight, Gordon Walters, B. Nickells; Casement, Robert Sidley, R. E. Richardson; Worth Time, Harold Brown, G. Brown. Time 2:10.

Mrs. Betty Vernon of Salem was outrider. The Lisbon Trot and Pace Club gave trophies to the three winners. Making the presentations were Clarence L. Wetzel, Don Rudibaugh, Roy James and John Long of Carrollton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walters of Glenmoor won $5 in the Senior Citizens tent for being the "longest married" couple attending. They were married 57 years ago.

Kathy Whiteleather of Minerva R.D. 2 won first place in the senior division of the Junior Fair dairy showmanship and received a heifer calf from the Farmers National Bank of Salem.

HER SISTER, Ruth Ann, received a $25 savings bond from the Central Ohio Breeding Association for winning the dairy showmanship junior division.

All other showmanship winners received small trophies from the Curtis Breeding Service. They follow in order of finish:

Senior — Jim Miller, Columbus.

The events lasted until 1 a.m., with about 200 horses shown.

Light and heavyweight horse-pulling contests were held late this morning and this afternoon, along with a stage show at 2 p.m. and a women's tractor contest at 3 p.m.

Tonight's variety show will feature the South Side High School Band, the Julindas — an acrobatic act — and Josef Smiley, illusionist plus a dance team.

Free rides will be held on three steam engines on the fairgrounds.

King's Agreement
On Open Housing
Assailed In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A dissident group of Negroes heatedly assailed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s landmark open housing agreement with Chicago officials as a sellout and said they would stage their own march Sunday in the tense all-white suburb of Cicero.

King called off his Cicero march Friday after he and city leaders agreed on a 10-point program aimed at opening all-white neighborhoods to Negroes.

A spokesman for the dissatisfied group, the West Side Organization, called King's actions "a betrayal and I call it treason."

King presented the program to more than 1,000 jubilant Negroes and civil rights workers in the Stone Temple Baptist Church in the heart of the West Side Negro ghetto Friday night.

"We've come a long, long way," said King. "We've crossed the Red Sea right here in Chicago."

Sweat running down his face, King said of the march planned by the dissidents: "If they in good conscience feel they must go, they go with my prayers and my blessings."

Capt. Roland Brani of the Cicero police department said: "If there is a march, we will uphold and enforce the law and deal with the people who violate it accordingly."

The town ordinance that requires permits for parades was lifted for King's planned march, but would be in force for similar action by any other group, Brani said.

Chester Robinson, head of WSO, said he would have a minimum of 300 people ready to march Sunday into the suburb of 70,000 residents.

No new plans to mobilize the National Guard were indicated, although a spokesman for Gov. Otto Kerner said the governor was keeping in touch with the situation.

Fifteen years ago, a riot erupted in Cicero when a Negro couple moved into an apartment there.

"We weren't trying to prove anything," said Harvey E. Clark Friday recalling the violence that greeted him. "The odd thing is that we were just looking for a place to live — and then our lives were split apart — bam!"

Moore Hints
He May Run
For Governor

COWEN, W. Va. (AP) — Rep. Arch Moore Jr., R-W. Va., again hinted at Camp Caesar near here Friday night he may be a candidate for governor in 1968.

He told a gathering of young people attending the National Teen-Age Republican Youth Camp:

"I am ready anytime my party is ready, and looking at the machine in Charleston, the time might not be too far distant."

His remark came during a speech in which he attacked the war on poverty effort. The young Republicans had asked Moore if he would run for governor.

Moore, who faces re-election to the House of Representatives in November, said the war on poverty has "left the problem area and is being used to feed a giant political machine."

In other action Friday, the delegates elected David Lambert, 17, of Weston as president of the camp and Brent Clary, 17, of Lafayette, Ind., as vice president. Both will return to the camp organization next year.

President 58 Today
To Celebrate Occasion Back On The Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, refreshed anew by a speechmaking, handshaking tour of the West, celebrates his 58th birthday today in familiar surroundings — Texas hill country.

Johnson reached the LBJ Ranch Friday night after a brisk one-day tour of Idaho, Colorado and Oklahoma highlighted by an appeal to the Soviet Union to join with American efforts to end the danger of nuclear devastation.

Although the President also made major speeches at Denver, Colo., and Pryor, Okla., he attracted the most attention at the National Reactor Testing Station at Arco, Idaho, where he called for the development of confidence between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"The dogmas and vocabularies of the cold war were enough for one generation," Johnson told an estimated 10,000 persons at Arco, "the world must not flounder in the backwaters of old and stagnant passions."

"For us that real test is not to prove which interpretation of man's past is correct; our real test is to secure his future," he said. "And our purpose is no longer only to avoid a nuclear war; it is to enlarge the peace."

Speaking later in the day at a convocation at the University of Denver, the President said U.S. foreign policy "must always be an extension of our domestic policy."

"Our safest guide of what we do abroad is always what we do at home."

The President's Denver appearance marked the beginning of construction on a space science research building made possible by a $1 million National Aeronautics and Space Administration grant.

Johnson drew his loudest applause when he told a large crowd at the university that "we defend, and intend to defend, the right of everyone to disagree with what we urge or do."

"We ask only that when we dissent from the dissent, it be recognized as an exercise of the very right we defend — the right of free speech."

The President received an honorary doctor of laws degree at the university.

Johnson, in obvious high spirits during the day, drew large crowds everywhere. Denver police estimated 75,000 persons turned out to see him at the airport, along the route of his auto caravan and at the university.

There and elsewhere, Johnson often would order his car stopped for some handshaking and conversation. When his car was moving, he used a loudspeaker to bellow, "Thanks for coming out."

At one point, Johnson referred to the 1968 presidential campaign, telling an airport crowd: "I'll be seeing you again real soon. I hope and, if not, two years from now."

$1.60 Hourly
Base Pay Gets Senate's OK
7 Million More
Would Be Affected
By Minimum Scale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed its version of minimum wage legislation that would extend the law's coverage to at least seven million more workers and boost base pay from the present $1.25 to $1.60 an hour.

The Senate version, approved by a 51-17 vote Friday, now goes to a conference with the House. The House approved a similar bill 303-93 last May 26.

Sponsors said they are confident the conferees will be able to come to agreement quickly on a compromise version.

The Senate action was a substantial victory for President Johnson, who has pushed the bill, and also promised to give the AFL-CIO its first major success of the 89th Congress.

A Senate filibuster earlier this session killed the AFL-CIO's top-priority item — a measure that would have repealed section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. The section allows states to ban the union shop.

The minimum wage bill won the votes of 42 Democrats and 15 Republicans on final passage. Opposed were eight Democrats and nine Republicans.

Conferees on the bill will have to decide whether to make the new $1.60 wage floor effective Feb. 1, 1968, as the Senate voted and Johnson asked, or a year later as the House stipulated.

They also must act on a Republican amendment inserted in the bill Friday over strong opposition that would reduce coverage of the bill by 185,000 workers.

The amendment, sponsored

Abducted Girl Used As 'Front' In Holdup

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two men abducted a 17-year-old girl Friday and used her as "a front" in a $1,500 loan company holdup, police said.

The girl was released after the holdup and not otherwise harmed, Detective Sgt. George Szakal said.

He said two men held her at gunpoint and forced her into her car at the shopping center parking lot, then made her accompany them to the American Plan Corp. office that was robbed.

9,000 Students Awaited
Hancock Begins
Classes Monday

Some 9,000 students are expected to attend classes Monday when Hancock County schools reopen for the fall term, Supt. Robert Hall reported today.

"We anticipate about the same number of students as we had on the rolls at the end of June," Hall said.

A total of 9,088 students were enrolled during the 1965-66 school year, including 721 at Oak Glen and 1,270 at Weir High School.

The four junior high schools — Chester Junior High, Wells Junior High in Newell, New Cumberland Junior High and Weir Junior High — had an enrollment of 2,314 last year.

The remaining students attended the 11 elementary and primary schools in the county.

Plans for the coming year include furnishing Educational Resource Centers at Chester Junior High, Wells Junior High and the Pughtown School. Such centers have been constructed at Weir Junior High, Cove School and Dunbar School in Weirton.

A successful year is anticipated for the school hot lunch program, according to its director, Lawrence Zeidler.

Despite a deficit of about $15,000 last year, and a rise in costs from four to seven cents per meal, Zeidler assured the Board of Education in a recent meeting that his department is improving financially.

School buses in upper Hancock County will be operated according to last year's schedule, Pete May, transportation coordinator, announced.

Service on Ferndale Rd. between West Virginia Route 66 and Scott's Lane has been temporarily discontinued until repairs are completed on Ferndale Rd., May said.

Grade school students will be picked up at the Scott's Lane intersection of Ferndale Rd. and high school students at either end of the road, he added.

One addition to the service will be a bus traveling over Mayhew Rd. leading out of Pughtown for students of about 15 families, May said.

Thirty-three school buses will serve nearly 5,700 students in the county, according to Charles McKinney, assistant superintendent of schools.

Mystery Surrounds Incident
Gun Wound Kills Youth;
Death Ruled 'Accidental'

LISBON — George Edward Ketchum Jr., 18, of Salineville R.D. 2 died of a bullet wound in the chest Friday night at the home of a friend, Larry James, 22, of Lisbon R.D. 1.

The victim's brother, Albert (Jim) Ketchum, 17, told Sheriff's Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman there was no argument between the two, Albert said he heard a shot, then heard George say, "I'm shot."

Wellman said the gun was a .22-caliber German pistol which was purchased second-hand yesterday from a Salineville man. Ironically, George loaned Larry the $13 to buy it, Wellman said. The deputy said he could find no defect in the pistol.

Eleven people were at the James House, 1.5 miles south of Gavers, when the shooting occurred on the front porch about 10:45.

Larry and George had just returned with a load of sweet corn for a late supper and Larry's wife was husking the corn.

Albert said George clutched his shirt over his chest and would not let Larry see where he was hit.

Larry and his wife drove to Salineville to get Dr. J. M. Nedelkoff and the Kerr Funeral Home ambulance. The youth was dead when they returned.

The sheriff's office received word of the fatality at 11:34 and notified Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner.

Dr. Kolozsi ruled the death accidental and said it was caused by the chest wound.

Wellman said James was in a state of shock, repeating, "I

No Aircraft Lost;
Marines Beat Off
Red Suicide Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam Friday with the greatest number of missions of the war, the U.S. command announced today.

The command said no U.S. planes were lost in heavy raids, the second time this week American pilots set a record for strike missions.

It said U.S. pilots, hitting fuel depots and other military targets, flew a record 156 missions, 10 above the previous high that was reached only last Wednesday. U.S. planes hammered the Communist north with 133 missions Thursday.

In Friday's record assault, more than 300 transportation vehicles and water craft were attacked by Navy pilots who flew 73 of the missions.

An Air Force spokesman said Air Force jets attacks touched off more than 35 secondary explosions and 25 fires in strikes on supply storage areas, convoy staging points and fuel dumps in the southern panhandle of North Viet Nam.

Earlier reports said U.S. planes had knocked out 40 barges near Thanh Hoa.

Around, U.S. Marines beat off an attack by hordes of Red suicide troops south of the demilitarized zone. The Marines fought the enemy hand-to-hand from tents and sandbag emplacements around their camp.

Reports from the field indicated the Marines killed possibly 50 of the North Vietnamese attackers while taking light casualties in a three-hour battle Friday at Cam Lo. The Marine tank and artillery position, firing support for other Leathernecks, held.

The Marines said the attackers all had explosives strapped to their bodies. Some ripped off their trousers to tie back barbed wire as they came screaming at the Leathernecks.

To the south, fresh U.S. 1st Division troops replaced a company which suffered heavy losses Friday when two U.S. jets mistakenly dropped two canisters of flaming napalm on the Americans' position about 20 miles north of Saigon. The infantrymen, hunting an elite, 500-man Viet Cong battalion, reported only occasional sniper fire Friday.

U.S. officials gave correspondents exact figures on Americans killed and wounded in the napalm accident but asked that they not be used in dispatches.

When the surfacing has been completed, the company will start work on seal-coating of streets which were surfaced in earlier years.

In the surfacing work, the prime coat will be applied first on all 34 street sections. Then the company crew will make two more consecutive rounds, applying the additional surfacing material and fine slag.

Vodrey warned householders that the "prime" coat is essentially a liquid which has a tendency to be picked up on shoes and auto tires.

Motorists and householders should keep off the prime coated streets as much as possible to avoid the possibility of the material adhering to shoe soles and then tracking inside houses, he said. Motorists who use the streets should drive at extremely slow speeds to avoid splattering the material on their cars, he added.

Families particularly should warn their children to keep off the prime-coated streets. Vodrey emphasized.

The condition should prevail only for approximately 24 hours, as the prime coating will be covered as quickly as possible with the second and third surfacing courses, which do not pose a severe hazard of sticking to shoes and auto tires, Vodrey said.

The city pays 50 per cent of the cost of the surfacing work, plus the cost of intersections. It pays the entire cost of the seal-coat on streets previously surfaced. The annual program is financed out of city income tax receipts.

Would Boost Teacher Pay

Reams Pledges To Raise Public School Standards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Governor James A. Rhodes pledged today that he "will work unceasingly" to raise public school standards and the pay of teachers.

The Toledo state senator and other "Reams team" candidates addressed delegates in the Neil House here after a keynote address by U. S. Sen. Birch E. Bayh Jr. of Indiana.

Asserting that the policies of his Republican opponent, Gov. James A. Rhodes, have downgraded educational opportunities for Ohio's youth, Reams said in a prepared address:

"In four years, state aid to public education has dropped from 31 per cent to 26 per cent following Rhodes' broken promise of 50 per cent aid."

"Because of this, Ohio teachers are not paid competitive salaries. Because of this, Ohio is faced with the greatest teacher shortage in its history."

"Also as a result of Rhodes' inadequate school support, local property taxes are rising and the voters are more and more reluctant to pass school levies and bond issues."

"I will work unceasingly to raise the standards in our public schools, and as a major step in that direction, to raise the pay of the teachers of Ohio."

The keynoting senator from Indiana asserted that Ohio could do better under a Democratic administration. He compared his native state under a Democratic governor with the Republican-administered Buckeye State in a prepared talk.

Bayh was the featured speaker for the second-day convention sessions.

Routine business was transacted at the opening Friday night attended by about 450 delegates. More of the nearly 800 delegates are expected before the convention ends with adoption of a "positive" platform on which Reams and other candidates will stand for election.

Officials said a dozen planks in the platform included educa-by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., provided that coverage of retail stores, hotels, motels, restaurants and some other businesses would extend in 1969 only to those doing more than $350,000 in annual business. It passed on a 41-38 vote.

The House bill, following the administration position, would include those doing $250,000 or more in 1969.

Both versions would cover such enterprises next year if they do $500,000 or more of annual business.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen sought to prevent any extension of coverage below the $500,000 level but lost on a 41-41 tie vote. This would have knocked out coverage of 967,000 employees.

Plastic Bag Over Her Head

Wife Of Dr. Sabin Found Dead In Cincinnati Home

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sylvia Sabin, wife of Dr. Albert B. Sabin, world-famous discoverer of oral polio vaccine, was found dead in her home Friday. She was 56.

Mrs. Sabin had a plastic bag, secured with a rubber band, over her head, the coroner's office said.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Sabin had been "depressed" and was under a doctor's care. Dr. Frank Cleveland, coroner, said a ruling will be made later on the cause of death.

Dr. Sabin was notified of the death while working in his office and laboratory. He has been associated with the University of Cincinnati and its Children's Hospital Research Foundation since 1939.

Mrs. Sabin had remained mostly in the background while her husband gained fame throughout the world. He is now working on a prevention for cancer.

A daughter, Deborah, 16, found Mrs. Sabin's body. The daughter told authorities she had been away from home most of the day and had to crawl through a window to get into the locked house.

The Sabins had another daughter, Amy, 14. The oral vaccine developed by Dr. Sabin has been taken by millions of persons in all parts of the world. He began work in 1931 on a prevention for polio.

Dr. Sabin first gained fame for perfecting vaccines against Japanese encephalitis, sandfly fever and dengue fever, all of which were threats to Americans fighting in the Pacific in World War II.

City Hall Roof Repair To Start In September

Capehart Brothers, Smith St. contracting firm, is scheduled to begin work in September on reroofing the City Hall. Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The concern was granted the $3,160 contract by Mayor George E. Willshaw and the director, who opened sealed bids on Aug. 19. Alternate offers of $1,343 and $1,780 were filed by the Minute Roof Patch Products Co. of Station A, represented by Ishmael L. Tackett. However, the second firm's offers did not meet the city's specifications on material, the director said.

The job calls for applying new roofing to more than 7,000 square feet. It covers the roof of the municipal building proper, as well as the one-story offset housing the police headquarters and garage and the jail.

Officer Nabs Jail Escapee At Rochester

BEAVER — A 19-year-old County Jail prisoner who escaped Friday from a deputy sheriff returning him from a Mental Hygiene Clinic was nabbed again within five minutes by a Pennsylvania state trooper, who found him seated in a wooded area at Rochester.

Donald C. McFarland, who has addresses both in Coraopolis and Brookfield, Ohio, was being returned from the Mental Hygiene Clinic by Deputy Sheriff Edward Barnett when he made his escape at the junction of the Ohio River Blvd. and Case St. in Rochester.

When McFarland attempted to get out of the sheriff's car, Barrett grabbed his clothing and a scuffle followed. In the struggle, McFarland took Barrett's .38-caliber pistol, leaped out of the car and fled along the highway.

Trooper Robert Vizyak of the state police went to the wooded area on a hunch McFarland might be hiding there. As he crept up through tall grass and weeds, he spotted the suspect's shoes and trousers. Crawling closer, he found the man seated in the wooded area, holding the pistol.

Vizyak worked his way around to the prisoner's rear, then pulled his gun and ordered the man to surrender. McFarland complied. He was handcuffed and returned to jail.

A short time later, McFarland was arraigned before a Beaver Justice of the peace on charges of prison breach, resisting arrest and obstructing an officer. His hearing will be held later.

The county probation office had ordered McFarland examined at the Mental Hygiene Clinic after he was picked up for a probation violation. He had been placed on probation last February on a charge of malicious mischief. The parole violation complaint was lodged when McFarland was taken into custody as State Police rounded up an alleged "motorcycle gang" in Sewickley Township.

Sheriff John Hineman Jr. said McFarland was not handcuffed prior to his escape yesterday.

because the sheriff had received several complaints from citizens on handcuffing of persons with mental troubles. In the future, all prisoners will be handcuffed regardless of their condition, he said.

Edwards Enters Bid On Showboat

James Edwards, owner of Waterford Park race track, disclosed Friday that he is seeking to purchase the showboat Rhododendron, now moored at Morgantown.

Edwards, who did not disclose the amount of the bid for the historic showboat, said the offer was the highest made yet, exceeding the $50,000 made by the community of Ravenswood, W. Va.

According to another report,

Hancock County Commissioners James Finley of Weirton and William C. Graham of Chester have written a letter to the West Virginia Department of Commerce in connection with keeping the Rhododendron in the state.

The City Park Commission of Clinton, Iowa, has bid $21,165 for the Rhododendron.

Edwards has said that he would convert the showboat into a yacht club and floating restaurant.

Be Careful At Outdated Lights

There has been another traffic collision underneath one of East Liverpool's outdated two-deck traffic lights — the type that has only red and green signals, no amber.

The collision at W. 4th and Jackson Sts. was comparatively minor. No one was injured and property damage was not extensive.

But it served to underscore the fact that motorists approaching one of the old two-deck signals must enter the intersection with more than the usual care or risk the possibility of coming to grief with a vehicle moving into the junction at right angles.

The lack of an amber signal causes most of the difficulty. When a two-deck signal is about to change from green to red, both lights flash on together for a few seconds. The approaching driver, if he's inclined to take a chance, decides that he has time to proceed through the intersection while both the red and green signals are showing.

If another car is moving into the intersection at right angles and the driver sees the light switch to green in his favor, he can proceed without stopping.

That's when a collision is bound to result, unless both drivers have unusually fast reaction time and their cars are equipped with excellent braking systems.

Until the old-fashioned two-deck signals are replaced, motorists should remember the extreme hazard of attempting to drive through an intersection when the light shows both red and green.

There might not always be a collision, but a heart-stopping near miss is nearly as bad on one's nervous system!

There are only three or four of the old-fashioned signals still in use in East Liverpool. New lights would cost about $400 each.

The lights should be replaced as quickly as municipal funds are available. Perhaps the new signals could be bought on a staggered basis if money is not on hand to buy three or four at one time.

But until they're gone to the scrap heap where they belong, motorists should remember that the old-fashioned lights can mean big trouble.

Play it safe! Halt when the signal shows both red and green to indicate imminent change.

Freedom

A reader got a complaint off her mind in The Review's "Letter To The Editor" column Friday.

We're in no position to take sides in the case at point — and don't intend to.

Two sentences drew our attention in the letter, however. "This is America, the land of the free. And free means we are allowed to do what we please."

There is no more precious gift than the freedom which goes with the American form of democratic government.

One thing should not be overlooked, however — with freedom goes a tremendous responsibility. Freedom doesn't give us the right to literally do what we please. Instead, it gives us the right to do what we please up to the point where what we're doing doesn't infringe on the rights of others who enjoy the same freedoms.

Freedom still must be tempered with common sense and sound judgment.

Another Frustrating War

Whenever there is an overwhelming desire for Republican leaders to get together on a point of view about Viet Nam, it is likely to give way immediately to an overwhelming realization that they can't get together.

If they tried, it would be a fiasco.

The difference between them and the Democrats on Viet Nam is the fact one Democrat — Lyndon B. Johnson, commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States — speaks with executive authority, but there is no Republican who can speak with any authority whatever.

President Johnson drowns out dissidence among Democrats on Viet Nam. But dissidence is there, just as it is among Republicans. Both parties are torn apart by differences of opinion on Viet Nam.

Republicans have no choice but to scramble for a position that will enable them to take quick advantage of whatever happens to the Johnson administration. If it has a chance to talk about peace, Republicans must urge it to talk about peace — but without capitulation.

If its Asian opponents refuse to talk about peace, Republicans must urge the Johnson administration to go all-out to finish the war — without undue sacrifice. On the other hand, if the Johnson administration ever does go all-out to win the war, the party of the opposition must be in position to criticize it for asking too much too long from the American people.

This is not a happy situation for leaders of the Republican party.

It isn't a happy situation for their counterparts in the Democratic party, who are of as many different minds as Republicans.

Both parties are experiencing the height of frustration.

It is the most frustrating war the American people have had to contend with since the Spanish-American War, which neither the government nor the people ever understood clearly while it was in progress — a war that began in misgiving and misrepresentation and ended in regret and recriminations.

OSU Has A Point

We are inclined to sympathize with Ohio State University in its hassle with the Ohio Historical Society over the future of the society's museum on the OSU campus.

The historical society has been allotted $10 million in state funds for a new building off the campus. When the present museum building on N. High St. at the campus gate is abandoned, OSU President Fawcett wants it for the university.

The historical society is not unwilling to have the university use it for a branch library, but it wants compensation. President Fawcett said the university doesn't intend to pay.

The historical society should have more than ample funds to build its fine new museum without taking additional from the university, which gets its funds from the state, just as the museum does.

President Fawcett figures university use of the old museum would save the state $2 million or $3 million. If his estimate is correct, it seems useless for the state to take that much money out of one pocket to put it into another.

Could Be A Tight Precedent

That Gardiner, Ore., strike over the dismissal of a woman worker because her sweaters and stretch pants were so tight a foreman thought they were distracting male workers could turn into a precedent tighter than the garments in question.

The employer has filed suit asking damages from the union that called out its workers in sympathy for the dismissed employee, who was not a union member.

But the tricky thing about this is the fact all the other women doing the same type of work wore the same kind of clothing — sweaters and stretch pants. Only one of them was charged with distracting the attention of male workers.

Her picture bears out the accusation. But what about the other women? If they were not fired and she was fired, it stands to reason they must not have been distracting.

Could that have been because the other women were not distracting per se — that what makes a woman distracting is not what she wears but what she looks like?

Can it be held against a woman that she is distracting? Must the next step in equality of opportunity be a one-word amendment to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 — that no job-seeker shall be discriminated against because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin — or a "distracting anatomy"?

By Truman Twill

Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Thank you for the material you enclosed with your letter. I have read it with interest.

It convinces me more than ever we need a department of psychiatry in government to keep track of this stuff. We won't have one, of course, because it would put a crimp in the plots of people who profit by its distribution. They know what they're doing.

We owe it to ourselves to understand what is going on when our fellow citizens shriek about invasion of rights and call other people dirty names. They're diverting attention away from themselves. The dirty-name calling is the tip-off.

For our own sake as individuals, we should spot the techniques of people who try to mislead us by the nose. We can be fooled some of the time, as Abraham Lincoln acknowledged, but we shouldn't be fooled all the time. We should learn to be skeptical.

This particular sample of thought distortion mentions preachers, teachers, professional men, judges, senators, industrialists, businessmen, then ties them up with "social planners" and clay-headed idealists — goofs seeking to convince the American people that we ought to apologize for America."

Then this gem:
"It's your America they want to tear down and overhaul — the same America that has given us a better chance than any other people on the earth ever got."

There is no admission of the fact the goofs also are Americans; that it is their America, too.

And isn't it curious that when this thought-twisting literature is enumerating the kind of people who may be guilty of "wrong-think" it doesn't include the sponsors of the literature?

This makes a thoughtful reader think the only thing standing between the preservation of his American way of life and its destruction by people who believe in the improbability of the United States is one doughty little band of simon-pure Yankee patriots.

I have no objection to dissemination of this stuff. I simply wish people would learn to doubt it. I pray for immunization of the popular mind against the infectious lie that national salvation depends on faith in some outfit with an unbroken record of ax-grinding.

Your aunt and I have concluded that nothing can save this greatest of all experiments in human dignity but development of ability to think critically. Self-government cannot survive without skepticism.

Otherwise, people will run hither and yon like chickens, until they destroy themselves. If I had my way I'd teach critical reading in high schools and give passing grades only to students who learn to tear apart the stuff you sent me.

Beware of ax-grinders when they call dirty names. They're working themselves into a fury before chopping off your head.

Your aunt says hello.

Miscues By Bobby The Boss

By Raymond Moley

For a brief spell, from the moment of his election as U.S. senator in 1964, Robert F. Kennedy, despite his scanty residence qualifications, has been hailed as the Democratic boss of the State of New York.

This eminence was accorded Sen. Kennedy because of a dearth of possible rivals. His election made him New York's only Democratic U.S. senator; the other seat and the governorship were held by Republicans. Mayor Wagner's long service as mayor of New York City was nearing the end, and after he declined to run again the city hall was occupied by a nominal Republican. Control of the Democratic party machinery was not only scattered but embroiled in factional struggles.

In the past Democratic leadership has usually been maintained either by undisputed leaders in New York City such as Charles F. Murphy and Edward J. Flynn or by strong Democratic governors like Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

WITH KENNEDY'S BASE thus seemingly secured in the Empire State, his brother Edward the junior senator from Massachusetts, and close ties with officeholders in several other states and with many U.S. district attorneys and judges selected by him when he was attorney general, the way to a decisive challenge to Lyndon Johnson seemed assured. Speculation pointed to a presidential nomination in 1972 or the displacement of Hubert Humphrey on the ticket in 1968.

These great expectations grew early this year when four individuals of assorted qualifications who sought the Democratic nomination for governor looked to Kennedy for endorsement. There was wry comedy in their solicitation. Issues and personal qualifications seemed irrelevant. All they seemed to need was a nod from the young senator.

However flattering this solicitation may have been to Kennedy, it presented to him a critical and dangerous matter for decision.

What if he endorsed one and another secured the nomination at the convention? Then his prestige would drop several notches. If he failed to endorse any of them and the nominee won the governorship, Kennedy's ascendancy would be challenged by the new governor. If he picked a candidate who was subsequently defeated by Rockefeller, he would earn the enmity of the supporters of the other candidates.

HE FINALLY DECIDED "to let the convention choose" the candidate. Thereupon, the candidate he probably favored, Eugene Nickerson, dropped out of the contest.

Meanwhile, Frank O'Connor, former district attorney of Queens and now president of the city council, took his case in his own hands. It's reliably believed that O'Connor was the one of the four candidates Kennedy did not want. But the proved vote-getting potential of O'Connor so impressed county leaders and delegates that he is virtually assured of the nomination and Kennedy must, however reluctantly, support him in his campaign.

All this has gravely impaired confidence in Kennedy's judgment, always a fatal blow to any boss.

At the same time, Kennedy's performance on the national scene has seriously threatened his reputation as a sophisticated politician. For he chose to join the doves in opposition to Mr. Johnson's policies in Viet Nam. Here, perhaps his bitterness toward Mr. Johnson rather than his love of peace was a motivating force.

RECENT PRIMARY RESULTS and the tests of public opinion show growing support for Mr. Johnson's firmness in pressing the war effort. This autumn will produce unhealthy weather for doves. If Kennedy takes the trouble to read history, he will learn that for a political figure to oppose a war already underway — especially when the incumbent president is of his own party — means almost certain political demise.

If President Johnson's efforts in Viet Nam prove successful, Robert Kennedy may well vanish as a threat to Mr. Johnson for all time.

In New York, O'Connor, running with no obligations to Kennedy, may expect that the Johnson administration will give him every means of support.

The status of a boss is always dependent upon the rightness of his judgments.

Kennedy already has made two miscalculations of great importance. The myth of his sophistication is fading. He retains the Kennedy name and the Kennedy money. After this he may emerge as just another junior senator.

A Question

By David Lawrence

Is A Little Treason Okay?

What more proof could Congress possibly ask for that Communists are active in colleges and in various organizations agitating on civil rights and the Viet Nam war than the frank statement just made by Gus Hall, leader of the Communist party in the United States?

Mr. Hall, while on vacation in Moscow, gave an interview to a Soviet youth publication the other day declaring that members of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs in this country are members of the Communist party. He said these clubs — which are named for the late David Lawrence W.E.B. DuBois, a Negro leader who became an ardent Communist — have developed into the most influential youth organization in the United States.

The U.S. Department of Justice last year named the DuBois Clubs as subversive organizations. Yet every time there are police reports from riot-torn cities which speak of Communist infiltration, the tendency on the part of some senators is to pooh-pooh such statements as echoes of McCarthyism.

TODAY CONGRESS is considering legislation which would make it a crime to participate in activities that involve the furnishing of supplies and other aid to the enemy at a time when military operations are actually being carried on by this country's troops. Many of the so-called "liberals" say that such proposed laws would infringe on free speech.

It's, therefore, interesting to read the exultant comments of the head of the Communist party in this country. Mr. Hall said:

"Quite naturally we have the closest ties with the DuBois Clubs since they occupy a Marxist position. Many of the members of the DuBois Clubs have joined our party."

"The fact that youths are coming into the Communist party of the United States is a most important distinguishing feature of our time."

The Communist leader also pointed out that now it's much simpler to come out against the government of the United States during the Viet Nam War than it was to do so during the Korean War. He added:

"It isn't so easy for American youth, which lacks class consciousness, to come out against this war. In order to take this road the Americans have to overcome in their minds the feeling of official patriotism."

WHAT THE COMMUNIST leader ignored, of course, is that some of the agitators in America have undertaken to send supplies to the enemy forces which are engaged in killing or wounding American boys. The "official patriotism" which the Communist spokesman scorns is what loyal Americans regard as an obligation of good citizenship.

It's most unfortunate that Communist activities inside the United States are not being completely exposed, especially the manner by which foreign governments distribute funds here for demonstrations that tend to embarrass the American government. These protests give to the North Vietnamese an impression of serious division inside the United States, when actually they are really inspired by the Communists.

There was a time when the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee were free to carry on extensive investigations of subversive activity in this country. Much of the data obtained by the Department of Justice, for instance, was made available for study so that committees of Congress could effectively expose what the Communists were doing.

THE SAME TYPE of information is being gathered today, but there is no explanation as to why more of it isn't disclosed to the American people. Congressional committees would be glad to have it.

Perhaps one reason for withholding the data is that the so-called liberals are against such exposures. Many of them have been urging that the committees be abolished altogether. This would, of course, please the Communists.

Those members of Congress who regard Communist activities as the exercise of free speech also belittle the charge about giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy. They argue that the aid given isn't much and that the damage isn't too serious — as if a little treason isn't so bad, after all.

hospital for a skull injury and possible fractured ribs. Both were taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

The accident is still under investigation, officers said.

Karl Oyster, 17, of Laura Ave. was treated at Alliance City Hospital after the car in which he was a passenger collided with another on Route 62 about a mile west of Route 173 at 3:45 p.m.

Oyster was a passenger in a 1961 sedan driven by James Richard Lang, 21, of Highland Colony, who was headed east and attempting to pass a station wagon driven by Benson Leroy Higgins, 42, of Sebring, officers said.

There was severe damage to the car driven by Lang, who was charged with improper passing.

Thomas James Lemley, 18, and William George Istnick, 19, both of East Palestine, were in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries received when their car veered off Route 46, a half - mile west of New Waterford, Friday night at 8:50 and struck a utility pole.

Lemley, of 718 Park Ave., was headed west in a 1961 sedan on an upgrade, straight section of the road when it went off the right side, over an embankment and into the pole. He suffered a laceration of the neck and Istnick cuts on the face and scalp. The car was demolished.

A truck operated by Joseph Baumgartner, 39, of Lisbon R.D. 5 was struck by a car driven by Carmella Guilford, 50, of Warren on Route 45, a mile north of Lisbon at 2:50 p.m.

Baumgartner, headed north, made a left turn into a private drive when his truck was hit by the oncoming car. The woman was admitted to Salem City Hospital with head injuries.

Larry Estery, 18, of 607 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, a passenger in the truck, was slightly injured, and Rose DeFevro, 66, of Weirton, a passenger in the women's car, suffered a cut on the face.

Baumgartner was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Both vehicles were heavily damaged, the patrol said.

A 1957 coach owned by Donald Talbert of 951 1/2 St. George St. was found wrecked a long County Route 419 between Elkton and Route 7 early today.

The car was apparently headed east when it went off the road, hit a guard rail, then crossed back over the road and hit opposite guard rails on a curve. The auto was partially stripped and the driver was not on the scene, the patrol reported.

William V. Harris, 16, of McDonald St. was cited after his station wagon and a car operated by William Fitch, 22, of 1837 Dresden Ave. collided on the Westfield Rd. yesterday afternoon.

The patrol said Harris backed out of a private drive and was struck by Fitch's car, headed west. Harris was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Isma G. Diehl, 44, of Lisbon was injured early Friday morning when his car went off County Rd. 419 and hit a guard rail, causing moderate damage to his 1965 coach.

Nationwide Train Strike Hits Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadians face a virtually trainless weekend with no action scheduled on the nationwide rail strike until Monday, when Parliament meets in special session to try to get the trains rolling.

Key industries say layoffs will be necessary if the strike lasts more than a few days. Grocers predict food prices will go up. The nation's $5 billion annual mining and newsprint industries began immediate stockpiling.

Canadian newsprint industry officials estimated that domestic and U. S. customers had enough supplies on hand to last 10 to 35 days.

A spokesman for International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., the world's largest nickel producer and Canada's largest copper producer, said there "are bound to be some delays in delivery," adding that layoffs would be necessary if the strike does not end quickly.

The strike was called by four unions representing 118,000 employees of eight railroads serving nearly 50,000 miles of track. Eleven smaller railroads are unaffected.

The striking workers, who earn an average of $2.23 an hour, are seeking wage increases averaging 30 per cent and have rejected a wage settlement of 18 per cent over two years, as recommended by three different conciliation boards.

Union representatives met Friday with the two major railroads — the government-owned Canadian National Railways and the privately owned Canadian Pacific — for the first time across a bargaining table in five months.

Labor Minister John R. Nicholson said after the meetings that the railroads are in a financial bind which prevented any progress on the wage issue. But he said the fringe benefits question has been eased.

Buses and planes were pressed into service to transport the 70,000 Canadians who normally ride the rails each day.

U.S. trains serving Canada stopped south of the border in most cases and buses took passengers to Canadian destinations.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Esperanza del Valle Vasquez is continuing to recuperate on her own without complications after living with an artificial heart pump for 10 days.

Officials at Methodist Hospital said Friday, "She is regaining strength and energy and her spirits are excellent. She continues to spend a large part of her day out of bed."

Mrs. Vasquez, 37, underwent surgery Aug. 8 when doctors implanted the device designed to give the pumping chamber of the heart sufficient rest to heal itself.

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda Friday filed a $19 million suit over seven pictures which display her "almost completely nude, and with her breasts exposed" in the August issue of Playboy magazine.

The defendants are the HMH Publishing Co. and Hugh M. Hefner.

In her State Supreme Court suit Miss Fonda said "her professional career and aspirations are and will be incalculably and permanently harmed."

The actress said that the photos were taken by a free lance photographer who "secreted himself on a catwalk" above the set of a film she was making in Paris.

In Paris Friday, Miss Fonda and her husband, French director Roger Vadim, were told their Las Vegas marriage is not valid in France.

They were married Aug. 14, 1965, in Nevada but failed to have the marriage registered with a French consulate.

New Signals Due For Crossing At Neville Building

New traffic signals will be erected at two major crosswalks in the vicinity of Neville School to help protect youngsters crossing busy intersections while en route to and from classes. Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

One will be placed at Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St. which will be designated as the crosswalk for children walking to Neville School from homes on the opposite side of Harvey Ave., particularly in the Klondyke area. The other will be placed at the junction of Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St.

The signals will be built to flash amber lights constantly, except when changed by an adult school crossing guard. The crossing guard will be able to push a button that will switch on red signals, halting traffic in all directions, in order that youngsters may cross.

The problem of pedestrian traffic to and from the Neville School will be increased in the 1966-67 term because of the closing of Klondyke School. Youngsters who formerly attended the Klondyke School will walk to Neville.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

Is Your Religion Counterfeit?

None of us would be satisfied with a counterfeit twenty dollar bill. The very existence of counterfeit money is proof that somewhere there is a genuine bill. This same truth can be seen in matters of religion. There are many false or counterfeit ways of religion. None of us should be satisfied with a counterfeit in religion.

In Prov. 14:12 we read this statement: "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Some religion then, appears to be right but is in reality a false way or a counterfeit. Jesus warned in Mt. 7:15 that there would be false prophets in the world who would look like the genuine. "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves."

Just because a teacher or preacher seems to be a great person and just because the way of religion that he teaches seems to be right, this does not necessarily mean that we are following the genuine in religion. We may have a counterfeit.

The next question that comes to our mind is this. How can I be sure that the religion which I follow is true? Is there a way of being positive that I am following the true way of God instead of a counterfeit of the Devil. The answer is yes. We can try or test the teachers and tell if they are from God. 1 Jno. 4:1 "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God, because many false prophets are gone out into the world." The only way that I can be sure if I am being taught the truth, is to try or test the teacher by the Word of God. God's word is truth and anyone who differs with it is following a way of error. Paul affirmed in Rom. 3:4 "... let God be true, but every man a liar ..."

When it comes to religion there is only one way that is true and it is the way that follows God's word. (Jno. 14:6; Jno. 17:17)

Are you sure that your religion is the true way of the Lord or is it possible that you have followed a counterfeit way that just appears to be right? We cannot afford to be wrong in these matters. Our soul is at stake.

To illustrate what we have been saying in this article let us think about God's way of saving the sinner from his sins. Some tell us that they are saved by faith only. Others claim that they are saved at a mourner's bench by their prayers to God for salvation. Some tell us that salvation came while listening to a Radio program or a Television program. Thus, there have been numerous ways that people have claimed to be saved. We can see which ways are counterfeit by reading Mk. 16:16 "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved ... "Is your religion true or counterfeit?

Vertical lines and contrast of this Florida glade won a first place award in the scenic division for Paul Ward of 2113 Ohio Ave. who shot it with a 35mm Exakta while on a 13-week vacation a few weeks ago. He entitled this "Peace."

A feeling of depth and the absorption of the girl was captured by Robert Poole of Westfield in this top winner of the portrait division. He photographed Barbie Patterson of 2607 St. Clair Ave. with a 35mm Canon at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church playground.

Wistful sadness is expressed in the Best of Show winner and first place award recipient in the human interest division of the Tri-State Camera Club show, submitted by Fritz Eckert of 338 Thompson Ave. Eckert, 20, a junior at Syracuse University, was photographing a house on 2nd St. when the boy came to the window and Eckert decided to take this shot with his 35mm Leica. Tri-X film provided the grainy effect which judges felt added to the feeling of the study.

Excellence Marks Camera Work For Annual Competition Held By Tri-State Camera Club

What makes a good photograph?

One which holds the attention of the viewer, one which tells a story in itself, one which depicts an unusual event or situation — the definitions are countless.

What is a prize winner in a photography contest?

A blue ribbon is generally not given to an out-of-focus snapshot of a favorite grandson posing on a beach, no matter if it holds the attention of the grandfather or tells a story of a cold afternoon to the mother.

A show winner must meet the basic requirements of good photography — proper focus, appropriate lighting, balanced composition, eye appeal and a uniqueness which sets it apart from just a picture.

Some excellent photographs were entered in the second annual Tri-State Camera Club contest held at Thompson Park last Sunday. A total of 111 entries were listed, a large increase over the 40 of last year.

First place winners ranged from a soft study of a child on a swing to a contrast of geometric lines in an architecture view. Some of the ribbon recipients are shown on this page; all will be on display at the park tomorrow.

Purpose of contest by the club is to stimulate interest and develop skills in photography in the area. There are men and women, aged 12 to 70 in the club, using everything from simple box cameras to high quality, complex equipment with elaborate home darkrooms.

The club meets the first Friday of each month at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building at Glenmoor, and anyone interested in photography may attend.

Even if your camera isn't your hobby, the examples of the show winners in getting people and places onto photographic paper may help your picture work with family shots or on tours.

And next year, you may have an entry in the club's third annual show, expected to be bigger and better than this year's.

A silhouetted woodcarving of a mother and child won a blue ribbon in the still life division of the show for Mrs. Carol Walton of Dixonville who used a Sawyers twin lens reflex. Mrs. Walton won best of show last year.

The offices of the International Metals Co., with its geodesic dome, at Newbury, Ohio, formed a contrasting pattern for a fine study by Mrs. Betty Crawford of Campground Rd., first in the architecture division. She used a Sawyers twinlens reflex for this picture, taken on a Camera Club tour.

A pixie-like Jacquelyn Wilson, 5, posed for her father, Cedric Wilson of LaCroft, in this picture taken last summer at Echo Dell and awarded second prize in the portraiture division. An Exakta 35mm was used.

A Camera Club trip to Blackwater Falls, W. Va., provided this second place winner in scenic division for William Lowe of Cannons Mill Rd. The water framed by rocks below the falls were photographed with a Ricoh Singlex reflex by Lowe.

IT'S HARD to beat grasshoppers or crickets for live bait in the summer, but did you ever try to keep them in a bait container?

Nearly all fish like them—bluegills, sunfish, perch, crappies, trout, bass and rock bass.

There are several ways to keep them from escaping, but one of the best is to put them in a soft drink bottle. Close the bottle with a wooden stopper or cork. Cut a slice from the side of the stopper to allow air to enter.

The grasshoppers or crickets then can be "poured" from the bottle one at a time as needed.

Another way is to place a discarded woman's nylon stocking in the bottom of the bait box. The spurs on the legs of the grasshoppers will become entangled in the mesh, preventing them from leaping out. Tackle stores also sell little bait cages from which hoppers or crickets can be removed one at a time.

To catch hoppers first locate a weedy place where they are plentiful. The experts say return early in the morning when the insects still are groggy from the previous night's sleep and can be easily picked off the weeds. You can also catch them after dark with the aid of a flashlight.

If you have children, take them along. They get a big kick out of chasing them down.

Grasshoppers or crickets can be fished on the surface of the water or submerged, whichever you prefer. To float the smaller ones, use a light wire hook—the kind used in tying trout flies.

Most anglers merely hook them through the middle of the body. Others insist on healthy, lively bait and make their own hopper hooks by fastening two thin, soft wires to a hook shank with liquid solder.

Wire stripped from a window screen is good for this. Set the cricket or hopper on the hook and wrap the wires around the body.

If you want the insects to sink, it will be necessary to use a split shot or two to get them down. Put the weights about a foot or so back from the hook so the bait can move freely with the current under the surface.

A fly rod handles insects like this very nicely. So will a spinning outfit with a plastic bubble or small weight. A heavier sinker is needed with a bait casting rod and reel.

When you use them, you never know what will hit. Big fish or little fish, they all like the taste of grasshoppers and crickets.

Fish them around rocks and under the edge of the bank along creeks.

MOSQUITOES ARE AWFULLY hungry this time of year, but there are many new insect repellents that keep them away, along with flies, gnats and chiggers. The repellents make fishing much more enjoyable but use them with care.

The preparations should be kept out of the eyes and should not be sprayed on the face. Also keep the palms of your hands free of them. Many repellents contain chemicals which will damage sunglasses, weaken fly lines and monofilament and remove the varnish finish from rods.

Once you have applied a repellent, wash your hands, being especially careful of the palms. Insects very seldom, if ever bite the palms of your hands anyway.

ONE OF THE MOST useful items in your tackle box can be a roll of plastic electrical tape. It will mend a torn raincoat or fix a guide that has been torn loose from a rod.

It serves as a first aid bandage, reinforces a splintered landing net, rod or boat oar. Use tape to hold hooks, snaps and swivels on the lid of your tackle box. Try some to keep the lids closed on your fly and lure boxes.

Apply the tape along the keen edge of a knife and when it is carried loosely in the tackle box, you are less apt to cut yourself.

There are many, many more uses. Buy a roll and try it.

ELASTIC CORDS are being used in all phases of outdoor life nowadays. But did you ever get smacked in the back with a landing net that had caught in brush or on a fence and suddenly let go. It can give you a nasty wallop.

Many fishermen remove the cord and attach a snap to the handle. This can be snapped to a ring fastened to your creel harness or jack. The net still is in a handy position and can be removed when needed. This way there is no danger of it catching and then hitting you when it lets go.

SEVERAL PERSONS have questioned a report heard about the presence of worms in the flesh of fish being caught from Lake Erie, Rocky River and other water areas.

Roger Kenyon, Wildlife District 3 assistant fish management supervisor, said walleye, yellow perch, sunfish and largemouth bass have been reported to be infected with these worms.

He said, "It should be understood that these worms cannot be positively identified unless they are examined under a microscope by somebody who is familiar with them. However, from anglers' descriptions, these worms seem to be tape worms and thread worms. Tape worms will be found in the intestines and stomach of bass, and generally, they do little harm to larger fish. Thread worms, tiny, red worms, are found in the flesh under the skin and can be harmful to the fish if there are large numbers found in the body tissue.

"These worms will find their way to the fish's body after being carried around by snails, kingfishes or other animal hosts. Worms are not unusual in fish at this time of year when the water becomes warm, especially when fish group together in large schools. The parasitic worms usually disappear by winter."

THE FISHING OUTLOOK for the weekend is fair. Most of the streams in northeastern Ohio are high and muddy, but the lakes are clear and normal.

Bass are being taken at Aquilla, Punderson, Clendenning and Tappan. Bluegills are hitting at Atwood and Leesville, while walleyes are being taken at Mosquito and Lake Milton. The best crappie fishing is reported at East Branch, Lake Milton and Deer Creek Reservoir.

Muskies are starting to move at Leesville and Piedmont Lakes.

DON'T FORGET to pick up your litter when you are ready to leave. The next party would like to see the scenery as you did.

Home Hints

By Ann Overturf

Columbiana County Home Economist

The fit of a garment is just as important when buying clothing for a child as it is for an adult.

A well-fitted garment for a child is relatively loose—not snug. It allows for movement—bending, stooping, reaching, running and climbing. It doesn't bind at the neck, waist, or armhole.

The neck opening is large enough to easily slip over the head. The weight of the garment should hang from the shoulder, particularly for young children. For separates, select shirts and blouses long enough to stay tucked in and pants and skirts snug enough at the waist to stay in place. Be sure the crotch in pants is long enough.

Buying clothes which are too large for a child is false economy. Too large, uncomfortable clothes may make a child feel unhappy, defensive, or inferior. Besides, the child's proportion is not likely to be the same as the clothes.

When purchasing sizes too large, the clothes are apt to be faded and worn by the time they fit correctly. Design features rather than extra size should allow for growth.

Here are some growth features to look for:

Lengthwise gathers, shirring, pleats or tucks which may be released; partially elasticized or adjustable tab-fastener waistlines; crosswise let-out tuck at the waistline.

High, low, or no waistline seam in dresses; Raglan or cut-in-one sleeves with no armhole to bind; roomy armholes, no sleeves, and sleeves without bands; collarless necklines and large neck openings.

Adjustable cuffs on pants and sleeves; wide seam allowances; ample hems chain stitched for ease in letting down; ruffles set on a skirt which may be moved down to add length.

Outfits of skirts and pants made to button onto blouses and shirts which may be lengthened by lowering the buttons, and garments made of stretch yarn.

LOS ANGELES — A woman who had just returned from a trip to Mexico called the police to report that a rattlesnake was loose in her overnight bag. Police went rushing to the scene with sirens screaming.

They approached the bag which the woman had heaved out of the window onto the sidewalk. Cautiously, they scattered the contents of the bag — only to find that the rattle was caused by an electric toothbrush which had accidentally been turned on.

Girl Aids Handicapped

Salineville Student Serves At Camp Pittenger

Paulette Kerr of Salineville, Kent State University education, is shown assisting one of a group of handicapped youngsters at Camp Pittenger, a facility of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr of 36 W. Main St., she is one of ten Kent students receiving class credit while working as a counselor at the camp.

As counselors they are gaining valuable field experience to help them in their future careers as teachers in the field of special education.

In addition to their regular duties, they are enrolled in a special course at Kent developed and supervised by Dr. Ronald F. Kingsley.

"The course has two objectives: to work with handicapped children and adults in recreational, therapeutic and academic activities over an extended period, and to gain a better understanding of their needs," according to Dr. Kingsley.

Along with working with the campers, the Kent students are taking part in seminars conducted by the professional staff of the Betty Jane Rehabilitation Center in Tiffin.

These programs cover such subject areas as psychology, physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech and hearing therapy.

Tri-State Tour Tips

Hueston Woods State Park with its 625-acre Acton Lake is a top attraction in southwestern Ohio.

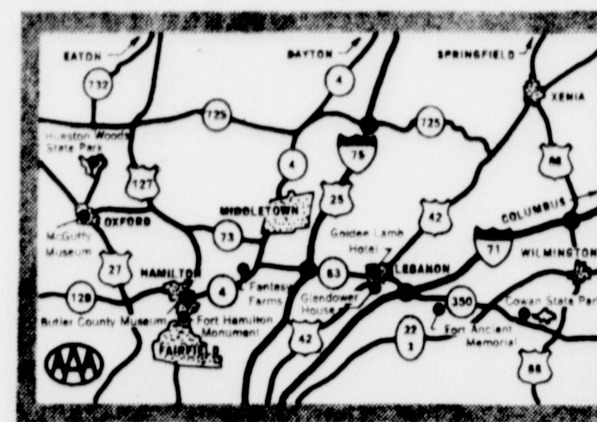

Located in a reserve of 3,524 acres, this lake is nearly five miles north of Oxford off Route 732. Around the lake is one of Ohio's best remaining original stands of beech and maple. Rental cabins are available.

At the other end of the tour area is Cowan State Park off Route 350 near Wilmington. The 700-acre lake provides fine fishing, boating and swimming.

ALSO ON Route 350 near Lebanon is the 685-acre Fort Ancient State Memorial. Prehistoric Mound Builder earthworks enclose 100 acres.

Lebanon, with beautiful old homes and buildings, is the home of the Golden Lamb (1816), Ohio's oldest hotel still in operation. It is widely renowned for fine food. Charles Dickens was among many notables stopping here.

Also at Lebanon on Route 42 is Glendower (1836), preserved by the Ohio Historical Society as a beautifully restored Greek Revival mansion reflecting Ohio home life in the 19th century.

Oxford, in addition to interesting old homes, offers the William Holmes McGuffey Museum, honoring the Miami University professor who in the 1830's compiled the famous readers bearing his name.

AT HAMILTON is the Butler County Museum. This city was settled in 1791 when General Arthur St. Clair built Fort Hamilton here. A memorial building with historic exhibits is located on the site of the old fort.

Between Hamilton and Middletown on Route 4 is Fantasy Farms, featuring farm animals in appropriate settings, as well as rides, a play area and picnic facilities. There is an admission charge.

The Columbiana County Motor Club suggests Route 60 west to interstate 61, then south to the area.

Koufax Blanks Giants For 21st; Pirates Sting Cards, 7-4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Bolin started out like the present Sandy Koufax but wound up like the past Sandy Koufax.

Koufax himself stayed in the present, and the result was a 4-0 Los Angeles victory over San Francisco Friday night that topped the Giants from first place in the National League.

The loss dropped the Giants one-half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who defeated St. Louis 7-4.

Koufax helped move the third-place Dodgers to within 1½ games of the top, pitching a four-hitter for his 21st victory against seven defeats.

When the game was only a few batters old, though, Bolin looked as if he were going to steal the strikeout pitch right out of Koufax' glove.

the first five Dodgers he faced, tying the modern major league record for consecutive strikeouts at the start of a game.

But Bolin couldn't maintain the pace and instead switched over to the base on balls pitch, the one Koufax threw so well in the first half of his major league career. Bolin walked six Dodgers, including two in the eighth inning when Los Angeles scored all four of its runs.

Koufax, on the other hand, walked only one, which is less than the 2¼ walks per game he's averaged in the last six years. The story in his first six years was a lot different. In that period he walked 5.3 batters a game.

Bolin finished with eight strikeouts to Koufax' seven, but the Dodger left-hander leads the majors with 261 and easily should win his fourth strikeout crown in six years.

In becoming the winningest pitcher in the majors, Koufax reduced his major league-leading earned run average to 1.61 and completed his 21st game in 32 starts.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati trimmed Philadelphia 2-0. Atlanta downed New York 6-3 and Houston defeated Chicago 7-4 after taking a 9-8 decision in the completion of a game suspended Aug. 11 after seven innings because of a curfew.

Wes Parker started the big Dodger eighth by drawing his third straight walk. He scored on Ron Fairly's single, and a walk to Jim Lefebvre finished Bolin. John Roseboro then single in a run, and the last two came on Lou Johnson's double and Koufax' sacrifice fly.

Colts & Vikings Score Victories In Doubleheader

By LOU MIO
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Baltimore Colts stormed from behind in the second half behind quarterback Gary Cuozzo Friday night to beat the Cleveland Browns 24-17 in the second half of a National Football League exhibition double header before 83,418 fans.

After the game, Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier was searching for answers. He finally said simply, "We let down."

The first game went to the Minnesota Vikings, 30-27 over the Washington Redskins, thanks to the foot of field goal expert Fred Cox.

He booted three in the fourth quarter, the last a 28-yarder with six seconds left.

There were some bright spots in the Browns' defeat, all in the first quarter when they jumped to a 14-0 lead.

Baltimore kept the pressure on quarterback Jim Ninowski in the second half after Frank Ryan threw a 39-yard strike to Gary Collins and Leroy Kelly dashed 46 yards for another touchdown, zig-zagging and leaping down the right side.

The Cleveland offense seemed to bog down in the second quarter after Bob Boyd intercepted a Ryan pass on the Colts' 14. Baltimore Quarterback John Unitas bounced back in six plays with a 13-yard pass to Tom Matthe for a touchdown. Lou Michaels added a 43-yard field goal that cut Cleveland's halftime lead to 14-10.

Enter Cuozzo. The Colts' second string flinger picked at the Browns' secondary for two touchdowns—a 44-yard heave to Willie Richardson and one for 24 that Matthe grabbed with a leap at the three-yard line. He turned and stumbled into the end zone.

Unitas and Cuozzo combined for 17 of 33 completions for 243 yards while the Ryan-Ninowski combination was held to 149 yards.

The Vikings also alternated passers, using Fran Tarkenton the first half and Ron VanderKelen in the second.

Sonny Jurgensen went the distance for Washington and threw three touchdowns, including a 43-yarder to Bobby Mitchell that put the Skins ahead 24-21 early in the third quarter. The others were 21 yards to Preston Carpenter and a one-yard flip to Jerry Smith.

But Cox settled the issue. His nine-yard and 41-yard field goals tied it twice in the final period and the last came after VanderKelen passes moved the Vikings in close.

The Minnesota victory gives the Vikings 15 exhibition victories without a defeat. The Colts are 4-0, the Redskins 0-3 and Cleveland 2-2.

Today's action in the NFL has New York playing Philadelphia at Princeton, N.J., in the afternoon and Pittsburgh at Green Bay, St. Louis at Los Angeles, Atlanta and San Francisco at Columbus, S.C., and Dallas and Detroit at Tulsa, Okla., tonight.

In the American Football League, Houston plays at Kansas City this afternoon, New York meets Buffalo at Allentown, Pa., tonight and Oakland plays at Denver in a nationally televised contest Sunday.

Emerson, Stolle Move Closer To Net Crown

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — With the chips down, Australian ace Roy Emerson is getting a big helping hand from Fred Stolle in a bid for a share of the U.S. National Doubles tennis championship for the fourth time since 1959.

Stolle, somewhat of a disappointment this year, flashed his old-time form, serving with booming power and moving with deft speed Friday as he and Emerson defeated England's Mark Cox and Graham Stilwell 9-7, 11-9, 6-3.

"Fred's a pressure player," Emerson said. He praised his 26-year-old partner from Sydney after the pair moved to a semifinal showdown against U.S. Davis Cup players Arthur Ashe and Marty Riessen in the 86th national doubles tournament at Longwood.

Stolle and Emerson, who captured the U.S. title with Neale Fraser in 1959 and '60, upheld their No. 1 seeding in defense of the crown in ousting Cox and Stilwell, who had been rated eighth.

The Aussies broke Stilwell's service in each of the first two sets and then completed the sweep by breaking Cox in the third as Emerson posted his 22nd straight match victory in U.S. doubles competition.

"They were just too quick for us on the net," Cox and Stilwell admitted after the hard-hitting match.

Stolle, who was eliminated in the second round at Wimbledon and is not seeded in the upcoming U.S. singles, and Emerson rested today before meeting Ashe and Riessen in semifinals Sunday.

Ashe, a Davis Cup player for three years, and Riessen, former Northwestern University captain, romped to a 6-3, 6-4, 15-13 victory over Australia's Owen Davidson and William Bowrey.

Ashe and Riessen are seeded fourth, while Davidson and Bowrey had been rated sixth after their upset of Dennis Ralston and Clark Graebner in the Newport, R.I., finals last Sunday.

Ralston and Graebner, seeded second as America's top tandem, meet Mexico's Marcelo Lara and Joaquin Loyo-Mayo today, while the third-seeded team of Tony Roche and John Newcombe of Australia faced young Californians Stan Smith and Bob Lutz in the other quarter-final. Smith and Lutz were the No. 7 seed.

Top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil and Nancy Richey of Farmers Branch, Tex., and second-seeded Billie Jean Moffitt King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco led the way into the women's quarter-finals.

Yesterday's Stars
PITCHING — Sandy Koufax, Los Angeles, pitched a four-hitter for his 21st victory against seven defeats as the Dodgers dropped San Francisco from the National League lead by downing the Giants 4-0.

Mantle Didn't Have To Run, Follows Houk's Advice With 9th Inning Belt

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It wasn't a playoff for the pennant or the last game of the World Series, but just about everything else surrounding Mickey Mantle's performance Friday had the distinct aura of juvenile sports fiction about it.

"The Yankees were down by a run in the bottom of the ninth of their game with Detroit and Clete Boyer was on first. Manager Ralph Houk called on Mantle, the aging superstar, who had been out of the lineup for 11 days with a pulled hamstring muscle in his leg.

"Don't run if you hit it on the ground," said Houk, worried about Mantle's legs. "Just go for the pump."

Mantle swung at the first pitch and missed spectacularly. He swung again and off went the ball into never-never land. The Yanks won 6-5.

After the game, Mantle felt about as you'd expect he might. "Any time you hit a home run that wins a ball game," said Mickey, "it's at terrific feeling."

All but lost in the midst of the Yankee's terrific feeling was Tiger pitcher Earl Wilson who had put Detroit ahead 5-3 with his two-run homer into the third deck in the eighth.

Hank Aguirre had taken over on the mound by the time Mantle came in to hit, but it was hardly much consolation to Wilson. In other American League games, Baltimore beat Boston 3-2 in 12 innings, Minneapolis took Chicago 7-4, Washington shut out Cleveland 1-0 and California beat Kansas City 5-4.

Vic Roznovsky and Boog Powell came off the bench in the ninth inning and clubbed a pair of homers for the Orioles, tying the game 2-2, then Russ Snyder drove in the winning run with a single in the 12th. Lee Stange had held the Birds to just six hits until he ran into Roznovsky's first homer of the year and Powell's 33rd.

Earl Battey, Cesar Tover and Jerry Zimmerman each drove in two runs for Minnesota as the Twins extended their domination over the White Sox, winning their 11th game of the 12 the clubs have played this year. Jim Merritt went the distance for his third victory.

Mike McCormick allowed the Indians just five hits and singled in the winning run in the ninth. Only one Cleveland runner made it as far as second base. McCormick's game-winning hit was the seventh hit off Steve Hargan.

Harry Walker Will Be Back Next Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harry Walker will be back next year as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, says the team's general manager.

Joe L. Brown said Friday the management wants Walker back in 1967 and Walker has agreed, but no formal contract was signed.

Brown said he made the announcement to clear the air after an out-of-town newspaper said Walker might get fired if the Pirates do not win the National League pennant.

"This is ridiculous," Brown said of the story. "The club has done well, and a good deal of credit should be given to Harry. He's done an exceptionally fine job, and anybody that follows the club knows that he will be back."

Brown said he contacted Walker early Friday before the team left for St. Louis.

"I told Harry that we'd like him to come back and he said he would like to," Brown said. "That was all there was to it."

Walker guided the Pirates into pennant contention both years he's been with the club.

Roberto Clemente sparked Pittsburgh's 17-hit attack with three singles and a double. He scored two runs and drove in one. Gene Alley and Jim Pagliaroni each added three hits for the Pirates while Charlie Smith drove in all four St. Louis runs.

Joe Torre drove in three runs with two homers and Hank Aaron knocked in two with one as the Braves rolled past New York. The Braves' Ken Johnson scattered eight hits, including Ed Kranepool's homer. Torre's homers gave him 30 for the season. Aaron has 35.

Bob Aspromonte's second grand-slam homer of the season capped a six-run rally in the ninth inning that carried Houston past Chicago. John Bateman started the rally with a leadoff homer. Two-run homers by Billy Williams and Ron Santo had put the Cubs into a 4-1 lead.

Lead Held By 3 At Philadelphia

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — The jam at the top today after 36 holes of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic was the biggest of the year on the PGA tour.

Led by Dave Marr, Don January and Bill Martindale, tied for the lead with 138s, there were nine golfers only one stroke apart as the 75, who made the cutoff of 147, teed off in the third round.

Marr, January and Martindale took one look at the crowd of six just one stroke behind and headed for the practice areas after Friday's play.

Crowding them with 139 were Tommy Weiskopf, Roberto Di-Vincenzo, Gene Littler, Dudley Wyson, Bob Charles and George Knudson. It was only four strokes back to the perennial chargers, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

"There's going to be some juggling around on that course today," said the 27-year-old Martindale.

Marr, January and Martindale blazed into the lead as young Weiskopf faltered.

The 32-year-old Marr fired a six-under-par 66 to go with his first round 72. Martindale toured the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course in 68. He had a first round 70 on the par 72 layout.

The 36-year-old January plopped down in the press tent, spread his hands across a table and said listlessly: "I'm just plumb worn out. I've played in eight straight tournaments and I'm pooped. This is the last one this year except for some special television matches."

The big guns of the tour, Nicklaus, Palmer and Casper, shot 70, 71, 70, respectively, and were among a dozen tied at 142. PGA champion Al Geiberger was six strokes off among the 144s.

Nebraska Shooter Wins In Grand American Event

By HAL PARMS
Associated Press Sports Writer

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Delbert O. Grim was an estimated $6,000 richer today after winning trapshooting's most coveted event — the Grand American Handicap.

But the 47-year-old manufacturer's representative from Lincoln, Neb., practically had to be talked into competing by his wife.

"We just put a daughter-through college and had a wedding for another one and were a little short on funds," Grim said Friday after he cut down 100 straight targets from 23 yards away to capture the Grand.

Grim, who was coming here to demonstrate re-loading tools for shotgun shells for his firm, said his wife told him: "You're going there anyway and you love to shoot, so shoot."

And the calm, almost unemotional Nebraska did just that, becoming the first participant since 1963 to shatter 100 targets in the premiere event of the Grand American Trapshooting Tournament.

The bespectacled 5-foot-10, 165-pound sharpshooter said it cost him about $300 to try his luck against a field of 3,465 gunners. It was only the second time he had completed in the Grand.

"I felt real cool and never got real nervous until the last five birds," Grim confided.

Grim was modest in victory. "I'm real happy but I know I was lucky. I had a little help from someplace else."

Grim, a virtual newcomer to trapshooting, said he learned about guns while hunting as a boy with his father. He fired his first 100 registered targets in 1964 and broke only 77.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A freak false start blamed on a rearing horse resulted in the second race at Randall Park race track being declared "no race" Friday and $23,548 being refunded to bettors.

Ivan Tonic To Go Again For Ironmen

Ivan Tonic, former Midland standout, will play again for the Wheeling Ironmen.

Tonic, holder of a host of all-time Ironmen passing records, Thursday, signed a contract to return to his quarterback post after an absence of a year.

A knee injury sidelined Tonic for the 1965 season when he served as an assistant coach for Wheeling's entry in the professional Continental Football League.

Tonic is expected to see action Saturday evening at Charleston when the Ironmen make their second start against the CFL's defending champions, the Rockets.

The former University of Pittsburgh star tested his knee in summer training camp and this week began running through plays during Ironmen practice

tion on the knee this summer

Manager Bob Snyder said the doctor has given the veteran quarterback "the final OK" to play.

"He's been taking sprints and doing exercises," Snyder explained. Snyder said Tonic, 27, will continue to help coach but
"will be a player, primarily."

"We're confident that he's going to help the Ironmen," Snyder said. Snyder does not plan to start Tonic against Charleston but adds: "He'll be ready."

6 West Virginia Residents Die In Traffic Mishaps

Six West Virginians died from injuries suffered in traffic mishaps Friday, including a hit-and-run in Wheeling and an Elkhorn man and his wife in a North Carolina collision.

Wheeling police said Edward Wright, 79, was fatally injured when hit by a car while crossing a residential street in Wheeling. Police said Raymond A. Kwiatkowski, 24, of Wheeling, later turned himself in to police before Wright had died of the injuries. Police said Kwiatkowski was charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Outside the state, Charle E. Simms, 49, and his wife Nora of Elkhorn were killed in a two-car collision one mile south of Mocksville, N. C. Their 10-year-old son Steven was reported hurt.

Elsewhere in West Virginia Friday, Delbert Elmore, 50, of Charleston was killed in a two-car collision on U.S. 60 east of Charleston near the West Virginia Turnpike entrance.

Richard C. Turner, 22, of Woodville, Boone County, was killed when his motorcycle collided with a car near the Lincoln County town of Yawkey, 10 miles east of Hamlin.

Tommy Farmer, about 18, of Premier, near Welch, died Friday in a Welch hospital from injuries suffered Saturday morning in a car-truck collision on U.S. 52 south of Welch.

AP Photographer Dies

BOSTON (AP) — Peter J. Carroll, 55, an Associated Press photographer for more than 25 years and a World War II correspondent, died Friday.

New York's News Strike Nearing End

NEW YORK (AP) — A 126-day-old labor dispute that has blocked publication of the New York Journal Tribune appeared near an end today after tentative agreement was reached between the Pressmen's Union and the merged newspaper.

William J. Kennedy, the union president, said Friday he would recommend acceptance of the contract terms at a meeting of union members Sunday. Spokesmen for the paper indicated they could begin publishing by Sept. 6 if the agreement is ratified immediately. Details of the contract were not revealed.

Minor contract details still remain to be worked out with nine other unions, but Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York Newspaper Guild, said, "There is no problem which would prevent us from going back to work tomorrow morning."

The new paper, born of the merger of the Journal-American, the World Telegram & Sun and the Herald Tribune, will publish afternoon and Sunday editions.

It had planned a morning paper too, but on Aug. 15, the corporation announced the demise of the 131-year-old Herald Tribune. The dispute, long heralded by the publishers for the Tribune's death.

The merged paper's first editions were to have rolled off the presses April 25, but the Guild struck the corporation and nine craft unions voted to back its walkout.

With the exception of the pressmen, all the unions, including the Guild and the powerful Printers Local No. 6, had reached agreements with the corporation before the Tribune folded.

Pentagon Backs Method It Aids Relatives Of GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has defended its method of notifying and assisting relatives of servicemen missing or captured in Viet Nam, although it acknowledges that "undoubtedly, there are occasional slip-ups."

These slip-ups, the Defense Department added, "should not obscure the fact that the program is a good one and that the problems of these families are receiving and will continue to receive compassionate attention."

In a news release, the department said Friday it maintains "a continuing interest in matters relating to casualties occurring in Viet Nam."

"The initial notification of casualty status as well as the followup assistance to dependents are conducted in person by a service representative who makes every effort to assure that dependents' needs are accommodated," it said.

The department gave no reason for issuing the news release at this time.

An Associated Press article Wednesday described the problems some wives said they encounter when their husbands in Viet Nam are captured or missing. Some wives reported they had been forced to tackle walls of red tape and bureaucratic indifference in coping with legal and financial problems and in trying to learn the fate of their lost men.

Pittsburgh Files Petition To Block Milk Price Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The state Milk Commission's approval of a 15-cent hike in Western Pennsylvania retail milk prices has prompted legal action by the city of Pittsburgh attempting to block the increase and criticism by the League for Consumer Protection.

The city petitioned the state Supreme Court Friday for an order suspending the increase, due to go into effect Sept. 1.

The court gave the commission until Tuesday to reply to the petition.

Mrs. Marion K. Finkelhor, assistant city solicitor, said, "The city contends that while the Milk Control Commission has the power to grant emergency price increases to farmers, it is illegal to place an emergency price increase on consumers."

Ohio Officer Receives Viet Medal Of Honor

SAIGON (AP) — Lt. Col. Charles R. Leach of Chillicothe, Ohio, received the Medal of Honor First Class, from the Vietnamese government today in recognition of his services as adviser to the Vietnamese political warfare.

Before coming to Viet Nam a year ago, he was assigned to the Army's General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

He leaves Saigon soon for an assignment with the Army's Defense Intelligence branch in Washington.

Noted Pilot Killed

SION, Switzerland (AP) — Herman Geiger, 53, generally acknowledged as the world's greatest Alpine pilot, was killed Friday when his two-seater plane and a glider collided. The accident happened at a height of only 50 feet as Geiger's plane was taking off from Sion Airport.

QUESTION: Why does your funny bone hurt so much when you strike it?

ANSWER: The strange, partly painful, partly tingling sensation that you get when you hit what is called the funny or crazy bone, seems to be located in the bone itself. Bones are not really as lifeless or dead as they may seem to be, for about a third of their substance is made up of organic material and certain nerves are present. But it is not the bones of your elbow which give you a funny or crazy feeling when struck. Instead, it is the ulnar nerve, which winds around the elbow joint on the outside and lies directly under the skin, so that it has little protection. When you bang your elbow against something, you are giving a jolt to this nerve. This stimulates it to register the queer sensation which may travel down the arm into the third and fourth fingers of the hand. As many other nerves of the body do, the ulnar, in this case, is sending you a report - and also a warning. It says: "Your elbow is extremely important to you, and is easily damaged. Don't hit it that way again!"

FOR YOU TO DO: Take the report of your ulnar nerve seriously. Realize that your elbows are sensitive areas and protect them.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Aug. 27, the 239th day of 1966. There are 126 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1883, the volcanic island of Krakatau blew up. It was the most violent cataclysm in recorded history, causing a tidal wave that encircled the earth four times.

On this date:

In 1914, a British cruiser sank the German ship Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse during World War I.

In 1916, Italy declared war on Germany and Rumania declared war on Austria-Hungary.

In 1928, the Kellogg-Briand Treaty was signed by representatives of 15 nations in Paris.

In 1942, the discovery of penicillin was announced.

Ten years ago - It was reported in Washington that official U.S. optimism persisted about the prospects for negotiations with Egypt on the Suez Canal Crisis.

Five years ago - It was disclosed in Rome that Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani had received a letter from Soviet Premier Khrushchev saying the Kremlin would be willing to negotiate with the Western allies on the Berlin crisis.

One year ago - The president of the Natchez, Miss. branch of the NAACP, George Metcalfe was hurt seriously when a hidden bomb in his car exploded as he turned on the ignition.

National Steel Hails Product

PITTSBURGH — A breakthrough in metal canmaking material has been announced by President George A. Stinson of the National Steel Corp.

It consists of a new, lower-priced material named Stainless Weirchrome, which offers a brilliant stainless surface and superior corrosion resistance, Stinson said.

The product is steel strip coated electrolytically with an extremely thin film of metallic chromium.

"Stainless Weirchrome offers the finest tin-free steel packaging material available today," Stinson continued, predicting that its first commercial use will be in beer and carbonated beverage cans. It will be useful in a wide variety of packaging applications, he added.

"The material will be offered at a price below that of tinplate," Stinson said, "and will be available in commercial quantities before the end of 1966. It was developed by National Steel and represents a significant addition not only to the versatility of the metal can industry but to the economics of packaging materials as well. It combines the strength of steel with the beauty of a stainless surface."

Stinson detailed these attributes of the new material:

It can be manufactured on existing tinning lines with only modest modification.

It has better corrosion resistance than other tin-free can steels which have been under development in the last year or more. In part, this is because adhesion of organic coatings to it is superior to that of other tin-free steels.

It offers a brighter, more reflective surface than other tin-free steels, which makes possible better lithography.

Formability equals that of other tin-free steels. Seamless drawn cans may be made from it and can bodies may be made from it by cementing or welding the side seam.

An Insect Instinct

Compass termites of Australia construct a slab-like nest 8 to 12 feet high, with narrow ends pointing due south and north. The insects instinctively put the facings east and west to get maximum sunlight for drying their sand masonry, according to the belief of zoologists.

Rioting Marked Somali Visit

Selassie Greets De Gaulle As He Arrives In Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle arrived today from Djibouti, French Somaliland, where his visit was marked by bloody rioting between crowds demanding independence and French troops and police.

Emperor Haile Selassie, a tiny bearded figure beside the towering French leader, was at the flag-bedecked airport to greet him.

A flight of Ethiopian jet fighters escorted De Gaulle's plane on the last leg of the flight to the capital and a 21-gun salute boomed as it touched down.

Several thousand people had gathered at the roadside in town to watch the president and the emperor change from their limousine to a horse-drawn state carriage, in which they rode the rest of the way to Haile Selassie's Jubilee Palace.

Only a sprinkling of people lined the four-mile route to town.

The welcome was enthusiastic but far fewer people turned out than had greeted Britain's Queen Elizabeth II last year.

De Gaulle appeared unflustered by two days of anti-French rioting in Djibouti. He smiled and waved to acknowledge cheers of the airport crowd.

The French leader reviewed an Ethiopian army honor guard and was introduced to members of the royal family and government ministers before driving with the emperor into town.

French and Ethiopian flags decorated the route and "Welcome to President de Gaulle" banners spanned the road.

A huge triumphal arch, first erected for Queen Elizabeth's visit, had been put up again, bearing French colors this time.

Mrs. De Gaulle, who is accompanying her husband, rode in a second horse-drawn coach with the emperor's granddaughter, Princess Seble Desta.

In Djibouti, two persons were reported killed and scores were injured Friday as authorities used clubs, tear gas and concussion grenades to clear a square before the French president arrived to make a speech.

De Gaulle cancelled the public

East End Driver Cited By Officer In 5th St. Mishap

An East End motorist was cited after a minor traffic mishap Friday at 1:45 p. m. on E. 5th St. at Crook Alley, police reported.

The collision involved a halted 1964 two-door sedan driven by Thurman E. Riggs, 22, of 418 Grant St. and a backing 1965 two-door operated by James H. Cregar, 51, of 1600 Holliday St., officers said.

Riggs told Patrolman William A. Devon he halted to pick up his wife and that Cregar, who was backing in a parking space, scraped the right side of the Riggs car. Cregar said he did not see the other auto.

Officer Devon cited Cregar on a charge of operating an auto without a valid driver's license. The East End man's permit expired six days ago, officers said. The collision damaged the right door and quarter panel of Riggs' car and scratched the left front fender of Cregar's auto, officers said.

Girl's Bicycle Taken At Home On Walnut St

An 11-year-old Walnut St. girl told police Friday afternoon her bicycle was stolen from her home some time Thursday afternoon.

The report was filed with Patrolman Orin C. Smith by Kathy Sue Gray of 414 Walnut St. She said the bicycle is a boy's model with 24-inch wheels.

The bike's frame is red and the fenders are chrome, she said. It has black handlebars with multi-colored streamers hanging from them. The bicycle's trademark is a large "S," she reported.

Pressure Does It

A person takes advantage of atmospheric pressure when sipping soda through a straw. Surface pressure forces the liquid up into the hollow stem as air is sucked from the straw. Weight of air pressing on the earth can push water to a height of 35 feet.

Don't Want Kennedy

Western Democrats Eye LBJ, Humphrey Again

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP) — Western Democratic leaders say they think highly of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but they don't believe Westerners want him to replace Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the 1968 presidential ticket.

Delegates from eight of the 11 states represented at the Western Democratic Conference said Friday in an Associated Press survey they have found no sentiment in favor of President Johnson dumping Humphrey for the New York senator.

Earlier this week former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Democratic differences over Viet Nam policy and Kennedy's growing popularity in the polls might prompt Johnson to stake up the ticket when he seeks a second full term.

Kennedy scoffed at the suggestion by Republican Nixon, who was defeated by his late brother, John F. Kennedy, for president in 1960. Western Democrats also rejected the suggestion.

"I haven't heard any sentiment on this," said Lucy Redd of Salt Lake City, Utah's Democratic national committeewoman. "Humphrey is well liked. Kennedy is well liked. Humphrey just happens to be vice president."

"I think the Democrats of Montana will be for Humphrey," said Lee Metcalf, Montana's junior U.S. senator.

Tom Brown, New Mexico national committeeman, said, "as far as right now is concerned, I sure would" like a Johnson-Humphrey ticket again.

$3,500 Blaze Sweeps Barn

ELKTON — Fire leveled a barn on the Paul Milhoan farm on the Elkton-West Point Rd. about 4:30 p. m. Friday. Loss was estimated at $3,500.

Fire Chief Ed Bergman of the West Point department said the flames were beyond control when he arrived with 11 men and two trucks.

The Lisbon volunteer department sent two trucks and the civil defense tanker.

Bergman set a loss of $1,500 on the building and $2,000 on the contents — hay, straw and miscellaneous equipment. There was no insurance.

Spontaneous combustion may have started the fire. The chief said. There was no electricity in the building. The Milhoan farm is three miles south of here, near the Elkton - Madison Township line.
